Knowing where to go for care

These days, we need to be much more aware of what certain health services cost and where to go for care. Oftentimes, we run to the emergency room just for the purpose of convenience. However, you may not recognize that the ER is the most expensive place to receive care and those visits aren't always covered by your health plan, meaning more out-of-pocket expenses. Understanding your options could save you time and money.

Your Doctor's Office

If your injury or illness isn't serious, try making an appointment with your doctor.

- > Health screenings
- > Immunizations
- > Cold or flu symptoms
- > Sinus problems
- > Sore throat

Average cost of visit:

$100*

Urgent Care

If you can't wait to see your doctor and your symptoms aren't life threatening, head to your local urgent care facility.

- > Animal/insect bites
- > Cuts requiring stitches
- > Ear infections
- > Mild vomiting or diarrhea
- > Sore throat

Average cost of visit:

$100*

Emergency Room

If you are experiencing symptoms that are life threatening, don't wait! Call 911 or head to the nearest emergency room.

- > Chest pain
- > Difficulty breathing
- > Sudden dizziness
- > Broken bones
- > Head injuries

Average cost of visit:

$1,100*

For more information on healthcare coverage through your benefit plan, call CoreSource at the number on the back of your ID card.

* Averages are based on claims data from CoreSource's book of business and are not tied to a specific condition or treatment. Cost of visits will vary depending on plan benefits.

 If your symptoms aren't life threatening, you'll end up with a longer wait and may incur a bigger bill.

Expect more. Benefit more.
